Few Surprises In Tuesday's Party Primaries

Pepper Foiled in Comeback Attempt By Sen. Holland

By The Associated Press
Surprises were scarce today as 10 states voted up final figures in the year's last big series of primary contests for Congress and governor.

The 1958 true-to-form political pattern prevailed again as Republicans and Democrats tapped candidates Tuesday in Florida, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Arizona, Colorado, Utah and Washington.

These were the major results:
1. Sen. Spessard Holland defeated former Sen. Claude Pepper in the 58-year-old liberal's bid for a return to the U.S. Senate in the Florida Democratic primary, equivalent to election in that state. Near-complete returns gave Holland, a conservative, a victory margin of more than 80,000 votes. Pepper blamed his defeat on the school segregation issue which found Holland advocating a stronger fight against integration.

En Route to Hurdle
2. Gov. Ernest McFarland of Arizona was en route to clearing the first hurdle in his attempt to return to the Senate by rolling up an early 2-1 lead over Democratic National Committeeman Stephen Langmade. McFarland's November opponent would be Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater, the man who ousted him in 1952. Goldwater was renominated without opposition.

3. Two senators, Arthur Watkins (R-Utah) and William Proxmire (D-Wis.)—handily beat back intraparty challenges but may be faced with serious trouble in November because of heavy vote totals polled by the opposition parties in their primaries. Watkins will be pitted against Democrat Frank E. Moss and former Gov. J. Bracken Lee, running as an independent. Proxmire, who was named to GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's seat in a special election last year, will seek a six-year term against Roland E. Steinle, nominated without opposition by the Republicans.

Defied Demand
4. Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.), the lady legislator who defied her husband's demand that she give up politics and come home, was locked in a tight struggle with Marvin Evenson in Minnesota's 9th Dist.

Tuesday's contests involving 8 Senate seats, 59 House berths and 7 governorships completed the 1958 primary elections except for Georgia and Rhode Island.

Georgia counts up today, holding a Democratic primary for governor and 10 House seats. Rhode Island has a split deal primary—the Democrats holding theirs next Wednesday and the Republicans Sept. 25.

A rundown of other major primary contests Tuesday:
Vermont — Rep. Winston L. Prouty won a decisive victory over former Gov. Lee Emerson in their race for the Republican nomination for the Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Ralph E. Flanders. Prouty had the backing of Flanders.

Massachusetts — Sen. John F. Kennedy and Gov. Foster Furcolo won Democratic renomination without contest. Republicans tapped Statehouse Speaker Charles Gibbons to be substitute candidate for governor in place of Atty. Gen. George Fingold, who died 10 days ago.

New Hampshire—Wesley Powell

Look Ma, No Steering Wheel---

General Motors is introducing its newest experiment car, the Firebird III. Most revolutionary of several innovations is the control system. A short stick located between the two passenger seats does all the work of a steering wheel, accelerator and brake pedal. It is operated from either seat. Pressing left or right does the steering. Pushing forward accelerates and pulling backward puts on the brake. Pivoting the handle of the stick puts the car in "park," "reverse" or "drive." An improved gas turbine engine is located in the rear of the car. In the nose is a 10-horsepower piston engine to power the car's accessories. Shown right, below, is the stick control and the simplified instrument panel. At left, below, the car is in "Autoglide" which allows no-hands driving. It electronically follows a low-frequency powered cable imbedded in the white strip on the highway.

Probe of Skies By Satellites Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The newly established National Aeronautics and Space Administration has detailed plans to probe the skies with a whole series of earth satellites.

These are for the year ahead. For the more distant future NASA is already at work on projects to explore the moon and then move on to the planets.
NASA's program plans were disclosed for the first time at a packed-to-capacity dinner meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences Tuesday night.

They were outlined by Edgar M. Cortright of the Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory at Cleveland, a major unit of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. NASA is in the process of space-age transformation into NASA.

Cortright said he believed that through the NASA programs man would:

Within Two Years
1. Be placed in orbit around the earth within two years.
2. Land on the moon and return to earth, within 6 to 10 years.
3. Undertake exploration of Mars, but certainly not for at least 10 to 15 years.

Cortright described 16 space experiments which NASA has ready or can get under way within its first year of operation. Some can be combined, so that the actual number of launchings required has not been determined.

Seven experiments involve satellites weighing between 100 and 120 pounds, launched into orbits some 300 miles above the earth.
One satellite, used in geodetic measurements, would be equipped with a flashing light so that it

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night accepted a low bid of $6.20 per ton submitted by the Landsberger Trucking and Coal Co. of Lisbon to supply stoker coal for village schools during the 1958-59 term.

It is estimated that the schools will require approximately 260 tons.

The board approved the appointment of three new school bus drivers, John Novak, Raymond Reese and Ben Wilson.

5 Pass Police Exam In East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Five of eight men taking a patrolman's civil service examination in City Hall Tuesday evening passed Edward A. Hum, commission chairman, reported today.

Mayor Paul Merwin will name the patrolman. During their temporary tours of duty, the men will be paid by the hour. The basic patrolman's salary is $335 a month.

The vacancy was created by the resignation last month of Charles E. Ward.

Bad Weather Halts Chiang's Supply Ships

Reds Continue Bombardment of Offshore Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Bad weather kept Chinese Nationalist supply ships from trying to reach Quemoy today but didn't stop the Communist bombardment of the offshore island.

It was the second straight day that inclement weather in the Formosa Strait halted movement of ammunition and other supplies under U.S. naval escort to the beleaguered outpost.

In Taipei, sharp resentment was stirred by the proposal of Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky) that the United States persuade the Nationalists to withdraw from the Quemoy and Matsu islands during the projected U.S. diplomatic talks with Red China.

Wouldn't Be Quoted
An official of Cabinet rank who would not be quoted by name, said "We'll never abandon Quemoy and Matsu. No matter what happens, we'll hold on and fight for them. We've made our position clear time and again and it's unchangeable."

The Nationalists regard the offshore islands as jumpoff points for the invasion they say they will launch someday to retake the mainland. Giving up the islands would imply giving up the dream of reconquest.

Red artillery opened against the Quemoy at midnight and by 9:20 a.m. had battered them with 4,618 shells, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said. The fire landed in Quemoy, Little Quemoy and the Tatan islets.

Trained On Satou
The heaviest bombardment was trained on Quemoy's Satou beach, the island's best landing point. No supplies are known to have reached the besieged island since Red shells blew up an ammunition ship on the beach Monday.

The Defense Ministry refused to confirm or deny reports that supplies were being parachuted to the islands at night.

The U.S. 7th Fleet, which has been escorting nationalist ships to the three-mile limit off Quemoy, was bolstered by the arrival of a third cruiser, the Los Angeles, to join the Columbus and Vice Adm. Wall M. Beakley's flagship, the Helena.

Group Studies Trash Disposal Systems

The garbage committee of city council meeting Tuesday night at City Hall, discussed merits of two trash disposal systems under consideration by Council. No decision was reached on which system to recommend.

The methods are: A municipal system in which city workers would make collections in city owned equipment, and a franchise-type of service in which private haulers would be awarded contracts under conditions established by the City Board of Health.

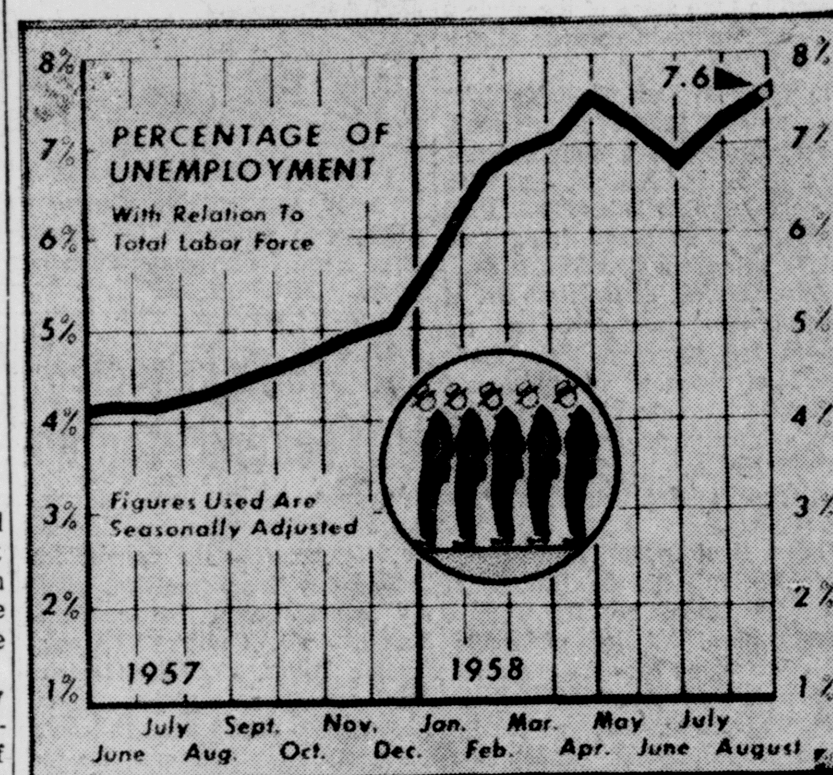

Committee chairman R. M. Linder said his group heard points advanced by two companies engaged in trash disposal work.

Safety Programs Held By Shawnee Scout Units

Twelve Shawnee District scouting units have completed their "safely good turn" according to Powell Schmauch district chairman. Recently Scouts and Cubs from Troops 5 and 6 and Packs 5 and 6 carried signs in downtown Salem which read "Are You a Jaywalker?"

On Aug. 23, three Shawnee District adult scouts were initiated into the Order of the Arrow, a National Scouting Service fraternity, established for the purpose of promoting camping activities as a part of the scouting program. Forty members held the "ordal ceremony" at which time Powell Schmauch, Bob Bartholomew and Leonard McDaniel, were initiated.

Iceland Boat Rammed, Pelted With Haddock

LONDON (AP)—The little Icelandic gunboat Odinn went fishing through the British trawler fleet off Iceland Tuesday night and got a bash in the bow and a pelting of fish for its pains.

Skipper Frank Padley of the 486-ton trawler King Sol radioed his owners: "I saw the gunboat Odinn (a 72-tonner) coming up from ast so I went full astern into him and made a right nice mark on his bow."

Padley said the Odinn's crew tried to board him and fouled his nets. He reported getting the gunboat's grappling irons.

The Admiralty said the Odinn then went alongside the trawler Loch Fleet and bombarded its crew with dried cod. The British fired back with haddock.

Undaunted, the Odinn went alongside the Aston Villa. That trawler's first mate, Albert Brown directed a stream from a hose through a porthole on the gunboat's bridge and the Odinn sheered off.

Iceland proclaimed a ban on foreign fishing boats within 12 miles of its shores effective Sept. 1. Some 60 British trawlers under protection of frigates defied the ban to continue casting nets in their traditional fishing grounds.

Icelandic gunboats have tried to arrest various of the trawlers but so far the frigates have protected them. About 30 of the fishing boats are reported still inside the 12-mile zone, although the catch is reported poor.

Brokaw said he will try and get a hearing before the court of appeals in some other county and is trying to have it heard in Mahoning County Oct. 21 or 22.

Air Force C47 With 20 Aboard Fell 800 Feet

U.S. Transport Faltered Shortly After Takeoff

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Thirteen servicemen were killed yesterday when an Air Force C47 transport plane carrying 20 persons faltered at 800 feet on takeoff, plunged to the ground and burned.

The Air Force first announced that 12 of 19 aboard the craft had died. While probing through the twisted wreckage early today, Air Force investigators found another body.

The accident happened at Elmendorf Air Force Base, a Military Air Transport Service terminal. The twin-engine craft plunged to earth only 100 feet off Elmendorf's main runway.

Eyewitnesses said the C47, on a routine courier flight to isolated posts in the huge northern territory, was making what appeared to be a normal takeoff.

At 800 feet, however, the big craft apparently stalled, veered off to the right and then crashed.

The seven survivors, all treated at the Elmendorf AFB hospital and all reported in satisfactory condition, were identified by the Air Force as: Capt. Robert L. Taylor, Lt. Col. William W. Cowan, Capt. H. J. Schwartz, Capt. R. G. Maynard, S. Sgt. L. D. Arner, A.3C. W. J. Rudi and A.2C. Ernest M. Conner, all stationed at Eielson AFB, Fairbanks. Their home towns were not available.

The names of the 13 killed were not released.

School Levy Is Filed With Election Board

The Salem Board of Education filed a resolution Tuesday with the county election board asking a ballot place at the Nov. 4 general election for a vote on a 1.9 mill levy that would provide $77,615 a year for additional operating expenses.

The resolution was enacted by the Salem board Monday night. It brings to 37 the number of special questions and issues officially entered for the fall ballot, with two more expected.

Proposals still are expected from the Beaver Local School District and Fairfield Township.

2 Integration Breakthroughs Made in Troubled Southland

(By The Associated Press)

Integration made two additional breakthroughs in the South Tuesday.

One bastion of segregation fell when two Negro students registered at a Louisiana State University branch in New Orleans.

The other breakthrough came when a federal judge ordered Negroes admitted to white schools at Charlottesville, Va.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department offered full cooperation in preventing violence and disorder at Little Rock if the U.S. Supreme Court orders prompt integration there.

The U.S. Supreme Court meets Thursday to review a Federal District Court order for a 30-month breathing spell in integration at Little Rock's Central High School.

The Justice Department's offer was in letters from Atty. Gen. William Rogers to Little Rock's city manager and school board president.

ADMITTS SHOOTING

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George Ward, 30, of Columbus walked into police headquarters Tuesday and admitted fatally shooting his estranged wife, Shirley, 26. Police had been seeking Ward since the woman was shot Monday outside a home where she was staying.

cent Rogers suggested a cooperative federal local plan, but emphasized that the primary responsibility for maintaining peace and order rests with the state and its subdivisions.

The plan involves use of injunction proceedings against those who oppose integration by unlawful acts. Such injunctions have been credited with success during integration disorders at Clinton, Tenn. and Hoxie, Ark.

Backed by a federal court order, two New Orleans teen-agers became the first Negroes to register without incident — as the new commuter's college opened.

Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana said he is certain the order will be appealed. The college is designed to take some of the student load off the main campus at Baton Rouge.

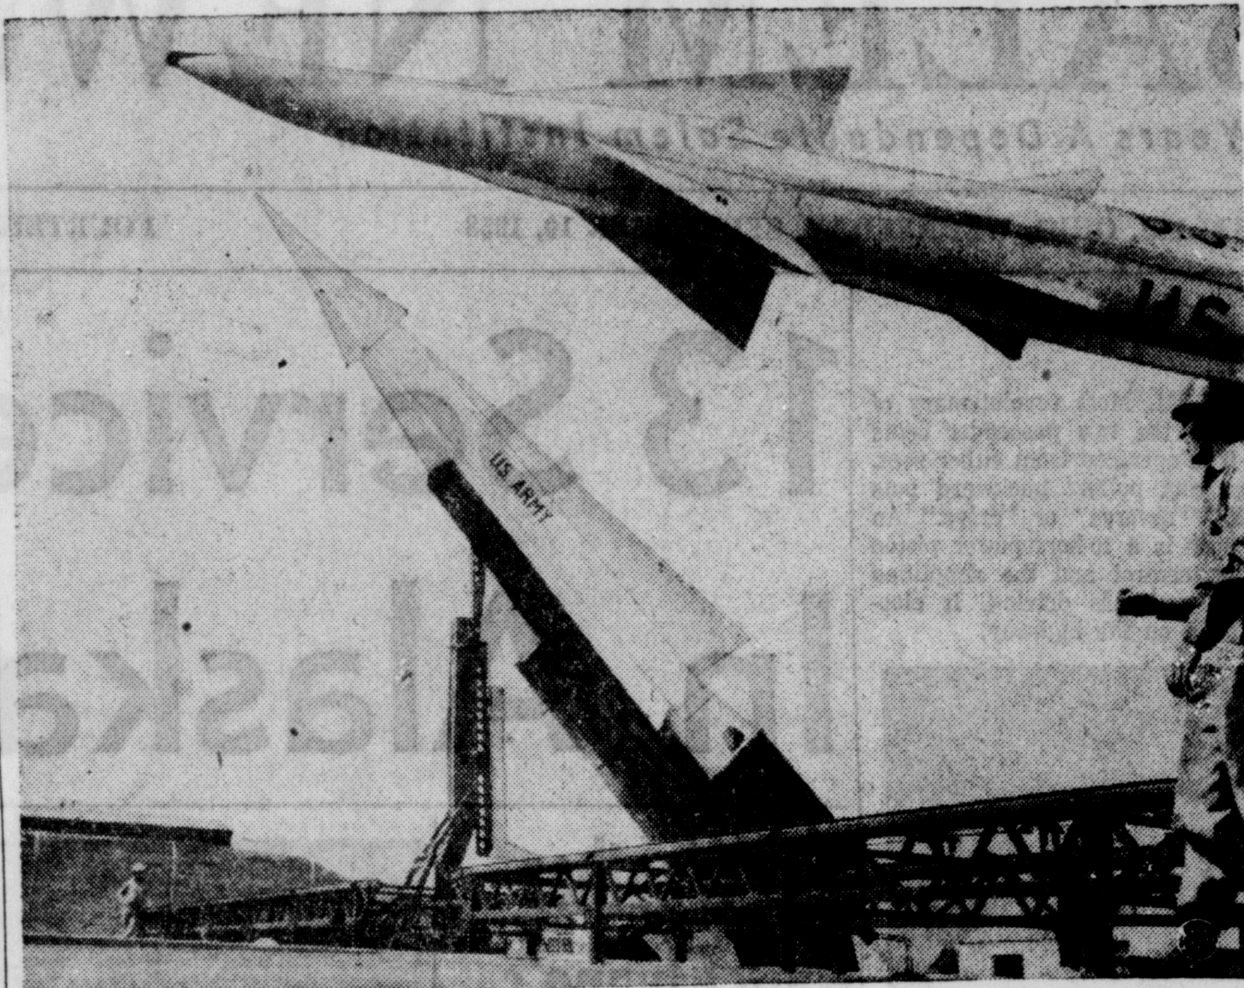

In Virginia, Federal Judge John Paul ordered 12 of 33 Negro applicants admitted to a white elementary school and a white high school in Charlottesville. Paul overrode pleas that integration might bring on disorders.

Atty. Gen. A. S. Harrison Jr. of Virginia thus may take two requests for stays to the Circuit Court of Appeals in Baltimore Thursday. The other case involves Paul's Monday injunction permitting 22 Negroes to attend a white high school at Front Royal in Warren County.

Unless Paul or the appeals court stays his rulings, the two Charlottesville schools and the Warren County school will close under Virginia law which bars the operation of any integrated school.

At Van Buren, Ark., white students protesting high school integration agreed to return to class, but a spokesman said if Negroes returned to school the boycott would be resumed.

Thirteen Negro students, who stayed away from the school Friday after the white students threatened violence, indicated they would not try to re-enter unless they can do so under court protection.

Advance registration indicates that an all-time record will be set for attendance at the Columbiana Council Boy Scout Jamboree which will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Camp McKinley, Dwayne Miller, Cherokee District Scout executive, reports.

Nearly 400 scouts from 18 troops and posts have registered for the three-day event.

The Saturday program will revolve around the theme of "The Gold Rush" and "The Forty Niners." Saturday's activities will be climaxed by a public campfire and a fireworks display. The evening program for the public will begin at 8:45. Everyone is invited to attend.

AEC Reactor At Piqua Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The adverse report by scientists on the proposed atomic reactor for Piqua, Ohio, has only delayed negotiations to build one there, Atomic Energy Commission officials said Tuesday.

AEC spokesmen said the commission will wait until the formal report by the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards is made. They said if the plant is built there it will meet every safety standard.

The committee's report, termed tentative pending further discussions in October, said the proposed site at Piqua is not suitable but did not say why.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), acting chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, said the advisory committee is not objecting to building a plant in Piqua but its concern was the particular site selected. The proposed plant would generate steam for Piqua's municipal electric plant.

Even if the contract is finally signed with the proposed builder, Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation Co., the AEC will order an open hearing for a construction permit.

After the plant is built, another hearing would be held on an operating permit, Anderson said.

finished ahead in a five-man race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, but a recount appears a certainty in view of Powell's hair-splitting 537-vote margin over former Gov. Hugh Gregg. The other three candidates lagged far behind.

On the Democratic side, Bernard Boutin outdistanced John Shaw in the governor's primary.

Colorado—Gov. Steve McNichols won Democratic renomination without opposition and State Rep. Palmer Burch had clear sailing in gaining the GOP assignment to oppose McNichols in November.

Washington — Sen. Henry M. Jackson won a hands-down triumph over Mrs. Alice F. Bryant in the Democratic primary. William B. Bantz had no foes in his bid for the Republican senatorial nod.

A 100-pound satellite inflating to a diameter of 100 feet, for studies of communications, radar and air density, would be launched before next July. Some of the satellites in this series would carry living organisms — yeast, initially —

Nine of the proposed experiments would involve satellites weighing more than 200 pounds, orbiting at more than 300 miles and serving as stabilized platforms.

It's Up to the Highway Dept.

Regardless of a map published in an out-of-town newspaper purporting to show the path of a relocated Route 62, the State Highway Department has NOT made any decision where that road will go.

Eventually, however, Route 62 will be relocated between Canton and the Pennsylvania state line, but trying now to pinpoint its exact path is like trying to predict that the Air Force's shot at the moon will be successful and that they'll find green cheese there.

THE ROUTE 62 project is still in the embryo stage, with the State Highway Department studying an engineering firm's survey of the road's possible path in eastern Ohio.

As in all engineering surveys, several recommendations will be made, based wholly on engineering principles and not taking into consideration its effect on, or usefulness to, communities such as Salem.

As a crow flies, so go today's modern highways—as straight across open country as possible. In the Route 62 case, however, we think Route 62 should be extended on a more direct approach to Salem so that its value to our community will not be lost entirely.

Salem needs Route 62 and deserves the full support of the Highway Department in making the relocation a practical one.

There's no reason to hammer on the table to emphasize the point, but local city and civic leaders, in their conference with highway department officials Saturday, should be able to present a convincing argument.

ROUTE 62 relocated close to Salem will tie in well with the city's arterial highway report and comprehensive plan, which, incidentally, was completed at city expense at the suggestion of the Highway Department to prove that our community had given evidence of local initiative.

Is Salem to feel like a stepchild of the Highway Department? Or will it share in some of the tax dollars that are being spent in new construction? The Highway Department alone, holds the answer.

Can the South Afford It?

There are times, particularly when legalists start splitting hairs, that educational integration in the diehard South begins to look like a dead duck.

It is obvious now that the U.S. Supreme Court's integration order of 1955 that pupils should be admitted to public schools "on a non-discriminatory basis with all deliberate speed" left the door open for endless delay.

One of the lessons taught by the Little Rock episode is that "all deliberate speed" is open to review, furthermore: The Little Rock school board, having tried integration at one speed, asked for judicial permission to try it at a slower speed.

Between Southern legalists who are doing their hair-splitting best to undercut Supreme Court authority by challenging the Constitution and politicians who are overlooking no chance to pose as martyred leaders of a beleaguered South, it may very well be that school integration in the South can be put off indefinitely in any community that wants to pay the price.

There will be a price. Besides the expense of supporting two school systems, which the South is accustomed to paying, there will be the expense of alienating public opinion outside the South.

This will have direct economic and political consequences. The latter will be visible in a widening rift between Northern and Southern Democrats. The two factions of the party are moving so far from each other over civil rights that it will take a miracle in 1960 to bring them into the same party convention.

The economic consequences would be of even graver significance. The development of Southern industry through northern capital and management inevitably must be affected by the problems that beset Southern communities. They suggest that the economic integration which forward-looking Southerners have welcomed is going to be handicapped heavily by resistance to the social and political integration which must accompany it, to make it meaningful.

An over-simplified example of the way inter-relationships between North and South can be handicapped by prejudice is the difficulty of Northern colleges and universities in carrying out the desire to schedule inter-sectional athletic contests. In many instances, the desire has been thwarted by Southern prejudice against colored athletes on Northern teams.

There is a price. It will have to be paid. Perhaps the South can afford it, if it succeeds in making "all deliberate speed" mean "no speed at all." But for every Southerner who wants it to mean that there must be at least one other Southerner who thinks the price would be too high.

Not Fooling Anybody

A professional chef who said the other day that men are better cooks than women's isn't fooling anybody.

It is traditional in our society that Grandmother is the best cook.

And for both the boastful chef and Grandmother, it is simply the old story: Necessity is the mother of invention.

The chef must earn a living and Grandmother had to feed a family.

The next best cook to Grandmother, of course, is Mother. The reason Mother comes in second is that appetites were younger and the occasion more festive when Grandmother's cooking was eaten. For the same reason, Mother's cooking is usually considered by men to be superior to their wives' cooking.

Perhaps it should be mentioned that in this day of canned and frozen foods, a lot of the cooking by Grandmother, Mother and Wife is being done by men anyway—in a remote fashion.

Tape recordings of a quiz-show contestant for future use, just in case of sour comment, alarm us. We may get a quiz show in which losers are whisked into booths and asked, "Can you hear? Okay. Tell us that any cracks you might make some day about this program are false. If you want more time you can have it."

A Wappingers Falls woman on an afternoon quiz program, we hear, had given right answers to two questions "What day is this?" and "Where is the Brooklyn Bridge?" but was bounced off the show in favor of a woman who won by answering a third question "What is Eisenhower's nickname?"

The Wappingers Falls lady remarked to a close friend, "I don't like the looks of things." She charges she was on her way home when she was dragged into a taxicab full of producers, sponsors, lawyers, etc., and forced to sign a statement denying everything, even that she had a close friend.

THE TAPED RECORDING read:
Counsel: Did you make a dirty crack about this program?

A: Who, me?

Counsel: Listen carefully, and remember your opponent is away out ahead.

A: Who is my opponent?

Counsel: Everybody connected with this program.

A: Okay, I'll go to jail quietly.

Counsel: We don't want you to go to jail now. Later will do. All we want is a signed statement that might put you there. Did you ever imply that you got the bum's rush in favor of a woman from Penobscot who was more photogenic?

A: As I recall it, that is untrue. The lady came from Albuquerque.

ONE WORD LED to another and the woman from Wappingers Falls signed the following statement: In case the matter ever comes up again, this is to certify that anything I ever said about the show was a figment of the imagination largely due to disappointment in not winning the copper percolator. Suppose the quiz had reached the point where the prize was a week in Las Vegas with free meals? I might have really made mean cracks. I got off lucky, which is why I now admit everything.

NOT ONE AUTOIST in a million gives a thought to the "muffler." Few owners know where it is. But auto engineers are giving it top attention because of the costly "rust out" caused by stop-and-go driving. Without distance driving the muffler gets little chance to heat up enough to get rid of condensation moisture.

Some costlier cars have six mufflers and replacement is expensive. The muffler on old-fashioned cars used to last years but modern motors and gasoline rust them out if the car gets little distance operation.

Disunity In U.S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Defeatism Could Bring on World War III

Disunity and defeatism — the curse of the democracies of our times — could bring on a third World War.

At the very time when the President of the United States is acting in accordance with the spirit of a resolution adopted in January 1955 by the over- David Lawrence, a leading voice of both parties in Congress that authorized the use of American armed forces to defend Formosa, the wisdom of that decision was openly questioned by the foremost spokesman of the Democratic party on foreign policy — Dean Acheson. The former secretary of state issued a scathing attack on his own government's policy. His defection from the American position was widely broadcast last Saturday.

It was a detailed argument in favor of the Chinese Communist side of the controversy by the same man who withheld American support from the Nationalist government at a critical period when Chiang Kai-Shek was fighting for the survival of the free government on the mainland of China.

Just 24 hours after the Acheson statement was publicized, Premier Khrushchev boldly demanded the withdrawal of the American armed forces from the Far East and announced that an "attack on Communist China" would be considered "an attack on the Soviet Union."

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER lost no time in reminding the Soviet Premier that he should concern himself with the aggressive operations of the Red China regime and restrain his ally, instead of worrying about the defensive tactics of the United States in the Far East. For there hasn't been and isn't the slightest intention on the part of United States forces to "attack" Communist China.

As Secretary Dulles said in his statement, authorized by the President after a conference in Newport on Sept. 4, "Neither Formosa nor the islands of Quemoy and Matsu have ever been under the authority of the Chinese Communists." He added:

"Since the end of World War II, a period of over 13 years, they have continuously been under the authority of Free China, that is, the Republic of China."

The statement pointed out that the United States has a mutual assistance treaty with Free China and called attention to the finding in the congressional resolution of January 1955 that "The possession by friendly governments of the western Pacific island chain, of which Formosa is a part, is essential to the vital interests of the United States and all friendly nations in ad bordering upon the Pacific Ocean."

SECRETARY DULLES reminded

ed the world that the same resolution of Congress — which authorizes the President to employ the armed forces of the United States for the protection of Formosa—also calls for "the securing and protection of such related positions and territories of that area now in friendly hands and the taking of such other measures as he (the President) judges to be required or appropriate in insuring the defense of Formosa."

For several days now there has been a mischievous propaganda encouraged inside the United States demanding, in effect, that the President notify the enemy of what his military advisers tell him is the proper course to follow in the detailed military measures to be taken in defense of Formosa and the related island positions.

If this were a major war, such demands would be regarded as plainly out of bounds. Indeed, it is the very spread of the belief that the United States government does not have the backing of the Congress or the people today which is in itself doubtless stimulating Khrushchev and his Chinese ally in Peiping to grow bolder and bolder in testing out American resoluteness and firmness.

MR. ACHESON openly criticizes what Congress did in 1955 and give the impression that he is advising the Democratic party now to back out on the votes it gave in support of that resolution. He questions the soundness of the statement that a "friendly government" on Formosa is "essential to the vital interests of the United States," and adds:

"Congress certainly has been led to say so. But Congress cannot make something true which is not true. Four times between 1948 and 1950 our highest military authorities concluded that this proposition was not true and did not justify American military action."

And what did Mr. Acheson do at the time? He told the world about our military strategy in a speech at the National Press Club in January 1950 and six months later the Communists invaded South Korea because they assumed the United States wouldn't defend Korea in as much as Mr. Acheson had publicly said it was outside the "defense perimeter of the United States."

Mr. Acheson, however, found it necessary in June 1950 to reverse his previous views as he counseled with Mr. Truman in favor of armed intervention in Korea. The American people suffered nearly 137,000 casualties in the war that followed.

The principle is the same today but the Eisenhower administration has chosen to leave no doubt this time that it will fight to defend Formosa. This is an effective way to prevent another war in the Far East and it would be even more effective if all political-minded spokesmen, instead of publicizing arguments that indicate disunity and defeatism, would stand behind their own government in this critical hour.

Not So Startling

By TRUMAN TWILL

All of us who have been trying to learn about Hyman Rickover are indebted to Life Magazine for putting his off-beat personality under a reading glass.

What is revealed is not so startling, after all. The U.S. Navy's No. 1 atomic submarine specialist — the man who broke the crusty resistance of a tight-knit organization and thereby saved his idea about atomic power plants for submarines and ships — is a familiar figure on the American scene.

He is the fellow who believes in something so single-mindedly he is a pain in the neck to people who are better adjusted.

He is the fellow who has so much intellectual integrity he feels no need to defer to the judgments and opinions of others who know less about the matter than he knows.

He is the fellow in such a hurry to finish what he thinks is important that he is inconsiderate of others who have no similar urge to work themselves to a frazzle.

He is the intellectual eager beaver in a society that does not like to be disturbed by ideas that call for hard thinking and hard work. Being all this, moreover, the Navy's most controversial and, currently most respected egghead is dead-set against the kind of organizational procedure that suits the "organization man." He is not an "organization man" — and that makes him anathema to the organization.

Adm. Rickover is grateful to the U.S. Navy for his education, but is not grateful to it for the handicaps it has tried to put on his mental capacity. He is violently intolerant of mediocrity and the restrictions that mediocrity places on gifted individuals.

He is easy to dislike, because his aim always has been to get done whatever seemed to him to be important, not to make himself liked.

It has been my hunch for two years that the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Military Academy and the U.S. Air Force Academy should institute courses to study Hyman Rickover and Billy Mitchell.

Their purpose would be to show young men learning how to be officers that the old school tie can become a hangman's noose if it is pulled too tight.

If the fledgling officers learned their lesson well, they would start their careers with a built-in philosophical adjustment to the problem that awaits every individual who goes against the grain of his associates.

Instead of being crushed by resistance to their individualism, they would know how to evaluate the resistance as an index to their success, provided their individualism was being put to some good use.

Best of all, they would know what the long-term result of sticking up for their principles when it was not the popular thing to do might be worth all it cost in personal popularity. They might do something historically important. They might be remembered with gratitude.

Veterans Guide

By Veterans Administration

Q—Before I can get a Certificate of Eligibility for a GI home loan I understand I will need to show my discharge from the Army which I can't seem to find. Will a certified true copy I had made do just as well?

A—Yes. A certified true copy of your discharge is acceptable to VA as evidence of your military service. Send or bring it, with your application, to the VA Regional Office in the area where the house you are planning to buy is located.

Q—How soon after I start school this fall, under the Korean GI Bill, will I get my first VA school allowance?

A—The waiting period is approximately two months. By law, VA is not permitted to mail you a check until it has received proof that you have completed the month of school for which you are to be paid. In addition, VA is allowed 20 days after that to get your first check in the mail. So count on approximately two months to wait for your first VA allowance check. After that checks will arrive regularly for each month of certified school attendance.

Q—I'm a disabled veteran of the Korea fighting, taking Vocational Rehabilitation Training and I have a dental condition that has been bothering me lately. My disability is service-connected, but I don't know whether my dental condition is or not. Can I get outpatient dental treatment from the VA?

A—You would be eligible for outpatient dental treatment in the circumstances you describe. The law states that disabled veterans of World War II and the Korea conflict receiving training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, and who need dental treatments in order to prevent interruption of their training, may apply for the treatment as needed.

Q—I want to change the beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I inform the present beneficiary of my decision?

A—No. You have the right to change beneficiaries at any time, without their consent or knowledge.

Miss Judith Justice Becomes Bride of Larry Zimmerman

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zimmerman, who were married Saturday in Columbiana, are honeymooning in Virginia. Upon their return, they will reside at 267 S. Main St., Columbiana.

The bride is the former Judith K. Justice, daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Wiselogle of Cleveland and Robert Justice of Negley. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Zimmerman of Columbiana.

The wedding took place in the Columbiana Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m., with the Rev. H. J. Scheidtmann officiating. Green ferns and ivy decorated the candlelit altar, and on each side of the kneeling bench was a vase of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Glenda Shasteen of Columbiana sang "The Lord's Prayer," "I Love You Truly," and "Walk Hand in Hand." Miss Suzanne Nelson of Columbiana presided at the organ.

The ballerina-length white satin bridal gown featured a pointed lace yoke and lace sleeves pointed at the wrists. The satin Peter Pan collar was edged with seed pearls.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace and satin cap also trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a lace handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother, and a cascade bouquet of white mums and ivy.

Miss Catherine Nelson of Columbiana was maid of honor, while Miss Mary Ruth Walker, a cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. Another cousin of the bride, Mrs. Anna Secret, and Miss Heather Haney, both of Columbiana, were bridesmaids.

Miss Nelson and Miss Walker wore coral dresses of nylon organza over taffeta designed with off the shoulder necklines, small puff sleeves and cummerbunds with butterfly bows. They wore matching Dior hair bows with veils attached and carried colonial bouquets of yellow mums. The bridesmaids were dressed in mint green and carried colonial bouquets of bronze mums.

Gene Justice of Poland, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Kenny Dowd, cousin of the bride, and Jerry Garrity, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, both of Columbiana.

Mrs. Wiselogle wore a light tan lace dress over rose taffeta, brown accessories and a yellow mum corsage. White accessories and a corsage of white mums complemented

FALL HAIRDOS

The chemise is said to have inspired many of the new hairstyles. Most of them seem to be along the head-hugging styles of the twenties. It will do for your coat what the chemise does, or should do, for your figure. The idea is to provide slim, graceful lines that are touched with individuality. Emphasis is placed on height and bangs with the overall effect being one of softness.

Oldster's Place

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Some young, uncouth horse thief in the office recently pasted a motto on my typewriter.

It says: God has a place for the older person whose heart has remained sweet and strong."

I had to laugh.

The young fellow who pasted this message was gently twitting me about my advanced age. The newspaper game has always been regarded as a young man's game —just as war is. Anyone over 45 in it gradually assumes the status of a dinosaur, and is often asked questions such as, "What was life really like in the old days?"

This is always a bit unnerving to one who—let's face it—can summon up a clearer mental picture of Clara Bow than of Brigitte Bardot.

At 40, I would have bitterly resented being teasingly classified as an "older person." But after 45 one accepts it, not as a taunt, but an accolade.

The envy of youth one has at 40 gives way to one of restrained pity. One feels sorry for the very young. After all, what have they really done to deserve all the turbulent woes that go with lack of age?

One has solved so many of life's more pressing problems at 45. At 25 you wonder what is happening to your hair. After 45, you know what happened to it. It went.

At 25, if you have a beautiful wife, you are always afraid some handsomer fellow will steal her away. After 45, you know you couldn't even pay anybody to kidnap her. She's safely yours.

At 25, you fret and fume over whether you'll be promoted to a better job. After 45, you have no such worries. You know the boss isn't likely either to give you much more money or much more responsibility—unless he suddenly goes senile himself.

At 25, your children are a cramping burden, who keep you from doing things you'd like to do. After 45, doing things for your grandchildren becomes one of life's greatest pleasures. For some reason a man's grandchildren always seem smarter and better than his children did.

At 25, a fellow breaks his back buying life insurance. After 45, you enjoy sitting back and enjoying your heirs, who must wait to collect.

At 25, you begin paying the government through the nose. After 45, you begin looking forward to the day when the government will be forced to start dishing some of it back.

At 25, you are confused and don't know where you're going. After 45, you know at least where you've been—and don't have to go again.

Yes, indeed, God does have "a place for the older person whose heart has remained sweet and strong." It can be a right nice place—and any young fellow, if he holds on long enough and plays his cards right, can get there too.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (20)—Landing on the Moon

(1) Since the Moon has no atmosphere to support wings or parachutes, landing upon it will have to be done entirely by means of using rockets for brakes. Even though the Moon's gravity is weak (one-sixth that of Earth's), considerable force will be needed to counter the Moon ship's momentum in its fall.

The entire operation will be a delicate maneuver, probably handled by automatic instruments. Some type of radar altimeter will control the rocket motors to fire them at the precise moment and strength. Gyroscopes will maintain the ship's perpendicular attitude.

It is thought that much of the Moon's surface is covered with fine, pumicelike dust, here being spewed upward by the rocket blast of the approaching ship. Determining the thickness of this layer of dust will be important before landing, lest the ship be engulfed by it.

(2) The first men step out upon the surface of the Moon, but still in space in terms of atmosphere and temperature. Temperature extremes, estimated by astronomers, range from 212 degrees F. (the boiling point of water) at noon, to -238 degrees F. at midnight. A step from sunlight into shadow means a difference of hundreds of degrees.

(3) A forbidding "moonscape," unrelieved by meadow or forest or any form of life that we know of, greets the landing party. All about are craters, some as much as 10 miles in diameter. Ringed and walled plains, up to a hundred miles across, are also part of this vista, along with two-mile-wide crevices and the vast plains called "seas." Towering above all are the jagged mountains, the highest 30,000 feet above the average level. Unsoftened by wind or rain, they appear needle sharp. From the Moon, men view the Earth as no one before has seen it—remote and lovely, a blue jewel set in a black sky. It makes the Moon seem all the more harsh and lonely.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Next: The Lunar Colony.

Pittsburgh Sweeps Pair From San Francisco 2-1, 4-3

Kluszewski Hit Wins Nightcap

Milwaukee Defeats Redleg's Newcombe

(By The Associated Press) A flash of genius hit Manager Danny Murtaugh, Ted Kluszewski hit the ball and the Pittsburgh Pirates hit the San Francisco Giants for a 4 1/2-game lead in their run for the runner-up spot in the National League.

That's how the Bucs made off with a two-game sweep over the Giants Tuesday night. They won 2-1 on Murtaugh's handy hunch after winning 4-3 in the completion of a game left hanging since July 27 by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew.

Bill Mazeroski led off the nightcap ninth with a double for the Pirates. Dick Groat drew an intentional walk, and Billy Hall was batting with an 0-1 count when Murtaugh got the flash.

Kluszewski took Hall's place and broke the 1-1 tie with a single.

The Pirates cut Milwaukee's lead to 6 1/2 games, but the Braves reduced their magic number to nine en route to their second straight pennant by beating Cincinnati 3-2. St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 8-7. Philadelphia ended its losing string at seven by beating Los Angeles 4-3 after a 6-2 success in the completion of another July 27 game.

Frank Thomas, who had hit a two-run homer for a 3-3 tie before the curfew sounded in Pittsburgh six weeks ago, drove in the winning run with a single as play resumed in the eighth inning.

The Braves won with two runs in the ninth, counting the clincher on a two-out error. Singles by Ed Mathews, Hank Aaron and Frank Torre tied it 2-2 against Don Newcombe. After a walk-loaded bases, Brooks Lawrence came on in relief and retired Bill Bruton and pinch hitter Del Crandall on popups. But Wes Covington's easy grounder then went through George Crowe's legs at first and the Braves bagged it.

Newcombe (6-12) lost it, Bob Rush (8-6) was the winner, relieving rookie Curly Willey after eight innings.

Gene Freese hit a solo homer and Eddie Kasko socked his first grand slam for the Cardinals, who won on Gene Green's double and a single by Irv Noren in the eighth inning. Ernie Banks hit his 45th homer — breaking his own major league record for shortstops — and Dale Long is 17th for the Cubs. Jim Brosnan (11-8) was the winner in relief of Sam Jones. Don Elston (7-8) lost it in relief.

Wally Post's sixth career grand slam won the July 27 completion for the Phils and reliever Jim Hearn (5-8). It came on the second pitch by reliever Clem Labine. Fred Kipp (6-5) was the loser. Harry Anderson's double, three walks and two wild pitches gave the Phils a winning three-run sixth in the regularly scheduled game. Loser Sandy Koufax (10-10) and reliever Johnny Klippstein struck out 12 while Ray Semproch, winner Jack Sanford (9-12) and Jack Meyer of the Phils fanned 11. That tied the modern NL record (23) for strikeouts by both clubs in a nine-inning game.

DOWN FOR THE COUNT — It may look like wrestling, but the action is at home plate and Walt Moryn of the Chicago Cubs is out in fourth inning at Chicago. Making the putout is St. Louis Cardinals catcher Gene Green after taking throw from first baseman Joe Cunningham, who fielded grounder hit by Lee Walls.

Ohio Teams To Play 49 Out of State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Play football and see the country! That could be the slogan of Ohio's collegiate gridders as they go into the 1958 campaign.

From coast to coast and border to border the Buckeyes will stage invasions as they travel to 15 other states for 49 games. And from 16 states teams will storm into Ohio for 48 contests.

Thus, of the 198 tilts on the slate, 97 are with out-of-state foes and 101 will send Ohio teams against each other.

The season gets under way Saturday with a single game at Bluffton's Beavers entertain Taylor of Indiana. In a Sunday night contest Xavier's Musketeers are hosts to St. Joseph's of the Hoosier State. The drive is launched in earnest Saturday, Sept. 20, with a 16-game spurge.

During the long schedule which winds up with the Miami at Cincinnati Thanksgiving Day contest, the Buckeye squads will appear in 56 night games, 49 Ohio Conference frays, 19 in the Mid-America, 15 in the Mid-Ohio, 14 in the Presidents' Conference, seven in the Big Ten and three in the Missouri Valley.

Invading teams from other states will be Michigan 9, Indiana 8, Kentucky 7, Pennsylvania 5, West Virginia 4, Virginia 3, Texas 3 and Oklahoma 2, and one each from Connecticut, Kansas, Maryland, Washington, New York, Wisconsin, Tennessee and Minnesota. Ohio squads will go to Pennsylvania for 11 games, Michigan for 9, West Virginia 7, Indiana and Kentucky 5, Illinois and Connecticut 2, and one each to Kansas, New York, California, Massachusetts, Texas, Missouri, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Dan James, Dan Frank Return to Buck Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The top two centers on the 1958 Ohio State football team came back into action Tuesday, but two backfield candidates still remained on the sidelines as the result of injuries.

Danny Frank of Dover and Dan James of Cincinnati were back in action after spending Monday nursing bumps received Saturday. Halfback Tom Matte of Cleveland and fullback John Dresser of Toledo, however, remained on the sidelines.

Bolden, Davis, Mitchell Draw Brown's Praise

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four of the most promising Cleveland Browns newcomers will be pressing ever harder for the next few days — five players must be dropped from the squad by Monday night.

Earning accolades from the Browns' coaching staff are halfbacks Leroy Bolden and Bobby Mitchell, flanking back Jim Shofner, and Willie Davis, defensive end.

All four will play against the Bears in a Chicago exhibition Friday night, Brown said.

Of Mitchell and Bolden, Coach Brown comments: "They've earned the job with their running. They certainly are long-shot threats."

Davis, for the moment at least, has beaten out Paul Wiggins at the left end spot.

"Willie," Brown said, "has moved in as the regular end, all part of the shift. Wiggins will start working some at offensive tackle."

Major League Stars

Pitching — Early Wynn, White Sox, gave up only three hits, two by Ted Williams, and blanked the Red Sox on one hit over the last eight innings while walking but three, striking out seven for a 4-1 victory.

Hitting — Russ Nixon, Indians, drove in four runs with two home runs and a double, hitting second homer and two-bagger in an eight-run fifth inning, in 9-2 victory over the Yankees cut to five innings by rain.

Crawford Faces Jones In TV Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — Art student Mickey Crawford, who seems to get more on canvas with a brush than with his fists, faces trial horse Tiger Jones tonight in a 10-round TV welterweight scrap.

Crawford, 24, has climbed to the National Boxing Assn. No. 4 spot among welterweight contenders on a record of 22 victories in 26 bouts. But the Saginaw, Mich., battler, who hopes eventually to have his own art studio, has only two knockouts to his credit.

The well-tested Jones is a swarming type of fighter who jumped to prominence three years ago in Chicago by handing comebacker Sugar Ray Robinson one of his worst poundings. The 30-year-old Yonkers, N.Y., resident has 45 victories in 72 starts, but only 11 kayoes.

Crawford, son of former flyweight Patsy Crawford, has a sharp left jab and right cross but he doesn't like to press like Jones. ABC will telecast at 10 p.m. EDT.

Cleveland Drubs New York; Chisox, Athletics, Tigers Win

(By The Associated Press) Johnny Callison, the kid outfielder who was reluctantly returned to the minors for seasoning last spring, has come back battling for the Chicago White Sox in their second-place showdown with Boston in the American League.

Callison, 19, was recalled Tuesday from Indianapolis, where he led the American Assn. with 29 home runs. A few hours later he batted 3-for-3 as the White Sox beat Boston 4-1 behind the three-hit pitching of Early Wynn.

Callison, playing only his second year of pro ball in a jump from Class C, drove home the tying run with a double and scored on Wynn's winning single in a three-run sixth inning. Then he doubled and scored again in the eighth.

The White Sox victory postponed New York's inevitable pennant clinching. Cleveland rapped the Yankees 9-2 and the Indians were still at it when rain stopped the game in an eight-run fifth inning.

Detroit defeated Washington 7-1 on Jim Bunning's three-hitter, and Kansas City socked five home runs, three by Preston Ward, in an 8-6 victory over Baltimore.

Russ Nixon, who had hit only six home runs, rapped a pair and drove in four runs as the Indians overhauled a 2-0 Yankee lead built on Mickey Mantle's 40th home run. Nixon homered leading off the big fifth against loser Murry Dickson (9-7) and Virgil Trucks, then hit a two-run double just before the rains came. Hal Woodeshick (4-6) was the winner, with two innings of hitless relief.

Bunning (11-10), gaining his first complete game in 10 starts since his July 20 no-hitter, had a two-hit shutout until the ninth. Then Herbie Plews hit his second home run. Al Kaline was 4-for-4 and drove in two runs for the Tigers as Hal Griggs (3-11) lost his ninth in a row.

Ward's homers (he now has 10) were solo shots in consecutive at bats. The second capped a three-run fourth inning that clinched it. Cerv drove in two runs with his 32nd homer and Bill Tuttle counted two with his eighth for the A's. Gus Triandos hit his 27th and Bob Nieman his 16th for five of the Oriole runs. Ralph Terry (10-11) was the winner with Tom Gorman's relief help. Arnie Portocarrero (13-11) lost it as the Birds slipped to sixth.

Ted Williams Making Bid For Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Aspirants to the American League batting championship — move over. The king is back and from all indications Ted Williams is able and ready to win his sixth title.

Sidelined by a virus attack since Aug. 24, Williams returned to the Boston lineup Tuesday night and slapped out two hits in a losing 4-1 cause to the Chicago White Sox.

However, he raised his average to .318 and is third in the league behind teammate Pete Runnels with .321 and Bob Cerv of Kansas City with .319.

Under similar circumstances last year, Williams came off the sick bed and put on a tremendous spurt to win the batting championship with a .388 average. That was his fifth. Others came in 1941 (.406), 1942 (.356), 1947 (.343) and 1948 (.369).

Looking thinner and a bit wane, the 40-year-old outfielder sidetracked questions on his chances of winning the batting title this year. He looked a lot better at bat. He clubbed out two of the three hits Boston collected off Chicago's Early Wynn and missed getting still another on a great stop by third baseman Billy Goodman.

"I don't feel as bad as I did last year when I came back but I am a little weak," he said. "I had to sweat it out this time. I had a sore throat and everything else. Those pills they kept feeding me didn't seem to help my strength any."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all — results were so thorough, that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. - Taxes are the price we all pay for the blessings of good government in this free land. But taxes too, have been increasing. In 1953 they amounted to $308,699.36... in 1958 they will amount to more than $800,000.00. This is more than $16.50 per telephone per year.
- The cost of all items of material and services which the company must purchase and use in providing good telephone service have increased in cost... as they have increased for everyone who must purchase them.
- There is no secret formula whereby this company can underwrite these increased costs. It has no source of revenue other than the money paid by its subscribers for the service it provides. To continue to provide good service, to continue to serve the ever expanding needs of its subscribers... it must have sufficient revenue to do the job well.

Grid Teams at Crucial Stage

EDDIE ERDELATZ
"Navy to go all the way"

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

College football squads are in the make or break period which is the three weeks of solid drill they get in before scholastic classes commence and the first shots are fired on Sept. 20.

College coaches have learned from the professionals that it doesn't pay to scrimmage too much once the season starts. The risk of injury is too great and there is no percentage leaving your game on the practice field.

This is the college players' most trying time. It's plain drudgery with no let up from early morning until evening . . . on the field and at the blackboard. The outfit must come out of this grind in condition and knowing where it's going with all hands properly set.

The campaign should be most exciting and controversial, with rule changes providing one - arm blocking, liberalized substitution and the two-point conversion, the latter opening the fields for tons of second guessing.

Football becomes faster and more complex with each season. The combatants improve like all athletes except major league baseball players and prize fighters. The coaching is more scientific.

NOW THAT THE BOYS are butting heads again, which arrays figure to be grabbing the headlines in November?

Starting with the stronger circuits, Ohio State's sock 'em, rock 'em game with all the horses figures to make it four Big Ten championships out of five. Behind the Buckeyes, in the order named, are ranked always formidable Michigan State, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Purdue.

Notre Dame lacks speed and has obtained little help from the freshmen, yet has enough fist and savvy around Nick Pietrosante to equal its surprising 7-3 record of a year ago. Auburn's probation problems won't stop the Plainsmen from mopping up again in the Southeastern Conference. Next in line are Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Mississippi State and Mississippi.

It's Oklahoma as usual in the Big Eight with Colorado again the principal threat. The Sooners once more invade Boulder, where their margins have been as thin as the air and Buffalo veterans are bolstered by remarkable sophomores. Texas Christian's Frogs appear to have too many horns in the unpredictable Southwest Conference, but Texas and Southern Methodist won't be far off.

EDDIE ERDELATZ means about the men lost and how tough it is to get a good kid in the Academy, but this handicapper picks Navy to go all the way, which means beating Michigan, Notre Dame and Army en route. Pittsburgh belongs next among the eastern independ-ate the Southern ahead of VMI and Virginia Tech. Independent Miami of Coral Gables is capable of standing off any college combination.

UCLA and Washington State must be listed behind Oregon State in the last year of the Pacific Coast Conference, but there really isn't a first class college job on the golden slope. Wyoming shows the way in the Mountain States, Houston in the indestructible Missouri Valley.

But always remember that with college boys this is an emotional game in which the ball frequently bounces funny.

Steelers' Tank Has Seen Lots Of 'Em On Seat of Their Pants

By CHESTER L. SMITH
CALIFORNIA, Pa. — (NEA) — Paul Younger the Steelers' fullback Tank — a name acquired honestly for nine years of hard service in the National League — accepted a seat on a bench here on the State Teachers' College campus.

Yes, he was pleased to become a Steeler. The trade that brought him to Pittsburgh from the Rams had come as a surprise, as all trades are to the pawns involved. But he was flattered that Buddy Parker had singled him out as the fullback he wanted, and he didn't mean to let the coach down.

THE TANK is a graduate of Grambling College in Louisiana. Compared to the great universities, Grambling, located in a small town of the same name, is little more than a wide place in the road, but Younger is happy about it all.

"My parents moved to Los Angeles just about the time I was ready for college," he says, "but the Grambling president, D. R. Ralph Jones, took me in. I'm his godson. I was lucky enough to make the pros. Maybe if I'd gone west with the folks I'd have played for UCLA, Southern California or somebody big like that. Might even have been All-American."

THE TANK SMILED. "All-American," he repeated, half to himself. "I've seen plenty of them on the seat of their pants."

The Tank couldn't have had a better sponsor than Dr. Jones. It was the Doctor who pressed the Louisiana legislature to change the name of his school. His plea is still remembered as a classic in cold logic.

"Gentlemen," he told the legislators. "I am here to ask you to change the name of the Louisiana State Teachers Normal College to Grambling. You will ask me why. I can only say that when we have the ball on our opponents' two-yard line and our cheering section swings into action to yell, 'We want a touchdown State Teachers Normal College,' before they are through our opponents have the ball."

THE LEGISLATURE voted unanimously to accede to Dr. Jones' wishes. Any touchdowns Grambling did not score in the years that followed were not the fault of either the Doctor or the cheering section.

The Steelers have played four exhibitions and Parker is still glad he has the Tank.

"He's given us four good jobs," Bud says. "With Larry Krutko (rookie from West Virginia) behind him, we think we have our fullback spot in good hands."

The Tank could be the beginning of the revival of the Steeler offense, which has been the sorest in the National League for too long.

If he isn't, it won't be because he doesn't know which direction the ball has to be moved.

Swollen Arm Shelves Chappell; Two Others Doubtful Starters

Junior tackle Ned Chappell won't be in uniform Friday night when the Salem Quakers inaugurate their 1958 football season at Reilly Stadium with John Marshall High of Cleveland.

The 190-pounder is still nursing a swollen left arm and is unable to bend it to any extent.

He has not worked out since last week sometime.

Senior guard Ken Garlock now is taking care of an infected right arm besides getting rid of a cold about his eyes. He missed Monday and Tuesday's practices.

It's possible he won't play either but more will be known as the week progresses.

Senior fullback Lou Slaby was in practice togs last night. He had injured his ankle Saturday night in the scrimmage with Ashland. He'll be ready for the clash with the Lawyers but might be used only sparingly.

Tickets are now on sale at Fiskers and Heddlestone and will be till Friday.

Old Dutch Beer Eliminated From Local Softball Tourney

Salem Old Dutch Beer was eliminated from the Salem Softball Tourney Tuesday night when they lost 7-0 to Hubbard Ressler's Plasters. They failed to show for the makeup of a postponed tilt.

In three actual games played, Hubbard came back to defeat E. Greenville Hank's Tavern 10-2, Akron Marko Body Shop eliminated Toronto St. Joseph 5-1 and Youngstown Aerolite got rid of Warren North End AC 2-0.

E. Greenville started the game with a first baseman who wore a cast on his right ankle. He played one inning before being replaced by Bob Love of Salem. Love finished the game and was declared eligible because he had not played for anyone in the tourney previously.

Bob Atterholt of Youngstown U. basketball fame pitched for Hubbard.

bard. Hanks touched him for two runs in the first but that was all. Tony Cordetti homered for Hubbard.

Chuck Biddle fanned 14 in pitching Aerolite over Warren. Loser John Beaver struck out 12. A walk, two errors and Mike Hanushak's triple scored Youngstown's two runs.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

The first day of squirrel season in the southern zone last Friday was made to order for the lucky nimrods that had time off to hunt.

It rained the night before. The leaf litter was moist and footing was very quiet. The hunter thusly could sneak around Indian style in search of the elusive little bushy tails.

Checking the list of hunters, I contacted 27 hunters with a total of 8 squirrels.

That could mean the squirrel population is low or it could be that the dense foliage of the trees kept the squirrels pretty well hidden.

It was anything but ideal weather considering it is still summer time. The mosquitoes were terrible also.

THE MOST squirrels taken came from Wayne township down on the state forest area that begins at the Ismond farm and runs straight west to a point near Rt. 164 just north of Salineville.

I spent Friday primarily checking in the southern part of Hanover Township where squirrels are almost non-existent.

More squirrels will be taken on the 15th when the northern zone opens because the best squirrel territory is now closed. This will include all the territory north of Route 30 and the eastern part of the county bordering the Ohio River and Pennsylvania.

A word of warning to hunters when the Beaver Creek area opens on the 15th. Do not hunt with a .22 rifle. Rifles are not permitted on this area which belongs to the State Park section. It is illegal to use rifles on any park area in any section of the state.

Rifles may be used on any Division of Wildlife areas such as Zepernick and the Highlandtown area as well as the Yellow Creek forest area. Rifles are not permitted at Guilford although you may hunt water fowl with shotguns no larger than a 10 gauge when the season opens Oct. 24 at 30 minutes before sunrise EST.

HUNTERS should familiarize themselves with the migratory game bird regulations posted in all Federal Post Offices or go to the County Clerk's office and study the Council orders on file there. Make sure you understand the legal shooting hours as well as bag limits. Let the whistling swans, grebe and other water birds alone that are protected by law.

E. H. Sheldon of East Liverpool landed a sheephead while fishing at Grims Bridge recently. According to Milt Troutman, a well known authority on fish, sheephead have not been known to exist any further up the Ohio River than Marietta since about 1870.

Fishing with soft craws, he also caught two bass 13 and 14 inches in length plus a 12-pound carp.

tholow of Lisbon RD 5, Thomas Rudebeck and Hazel Bartholow of Leontia RD 1, Philip Converse of Leontia RD 2, Ronald Kampfer of Salineville RD 1, Johnathan Gamble of Winona, Patricia Ann Gangel of Summitville, Sondra Sue Borton of Beloit RD 2, and Marjorie Anderson of Columbiana.

The group will leave Lisbon at 8 p.m. Saturday, accompanied by the advisers, Mrs. Carl Miller of Leontia RD 1, Mrs. Betty Dornick of Wellsville RD 1, and Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

To give the average working Joe a chance to live by more than bread alone, the nation's top labor chiefs are quietly organizing a new type of racket bureau lost to chiselers and not a r g aining — to make certain that the hundreds of millions of dollars in wage boosts won at ers at phoney bargain counters and sales.

A thousand petty rackets are slashing big holes in the budgets of working families across the land. An estimated billion dollars a year is being highjacked subtly by crude crooked set-ups — a billion dollars which should be spent by hard working folk in legitimate enterprises run by honest merchants.

There'll be little drama at first in the new labor bureau now being whipped into shape by the AFL-CIO Community Service Activities' chief, Leo Perlis, headquartered in New York.

This new anti-racket bureau will be known as the Consumer Counseling Service. It was ordered into business at a recent session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. Leo Perlis will have it operating right after the first of the year.

THUS WILL BEGIN a wide-spread war which will defend millions of working people and their families from the swindlers and gougers who make their millions in tens and twenties by charging inflated rates for washing machines, television sets or installation services.

This new group will fight against ghoulish interest rates on installment purchases and will expose other frauds in repairs, health insurance policies, high pressure door-to-door salesmen and fake correspondence courses as well as hidden charges on household appliances. It will also swing out at fake collection agencies.

In passing, permit me to make this an invitation to any working family who has such a grievance to pass word on to Mr. Perlis even now before the Consumer Counselling Service swings into action. For some years now labor leaders have been angered by the fact that after news spreads of a wage increase in some industrial area, the vultures swoop down. They offer fake brand television sets, for example, at a cheap price and then say they'll throw in an expensive lamp — worth all of 89 cents. Or they hook up a fine brand TV set with faulty wiring so reception on the store floor will be bad.

THEN THEY PUSH the sale of a set made up in some local cellar or one with stolen parts. If they do sell a good brand set to a persistent customer, the quack store salesman will charge for the manufacturer's warranty. Or he'll charge 20 per cent interest on installments. Or he'll charge for service on a washing machine — service which is guaranteed by the producer for nothing.

There are a thousand such rackets — and Leo Perlis' committee plans to alert union members everywhere in a series of classes run in their union headquarters.

Mr. Perlis will use university experts as teachers — not only on mechanical equipment but on nutrition and food, too. For there are rackets in these fields as well.

There will also be roving clinics in a continuing program until each union sets up its own consumer counseling department. They'll teach families of unionists how to buy wisely and where to go if they believe themselves mulcted of their hard earned money.

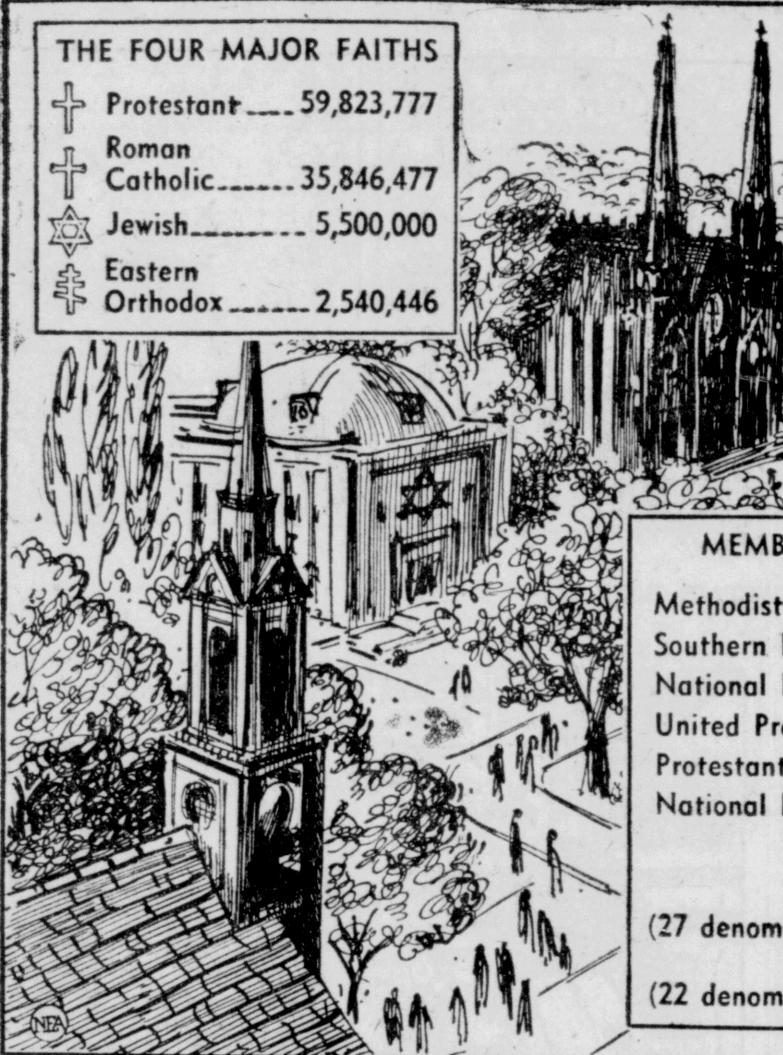

WHEREVER PERLIS' people run into rackets which can be prosecuted, they'll work with the local and federal prosecutive agencies.

Mr. Perlis is contacting the Federal Trade Commission, the Food and Drug Administration and the hundreds of Better Business Bureaus everywhere in setting up this unique project.

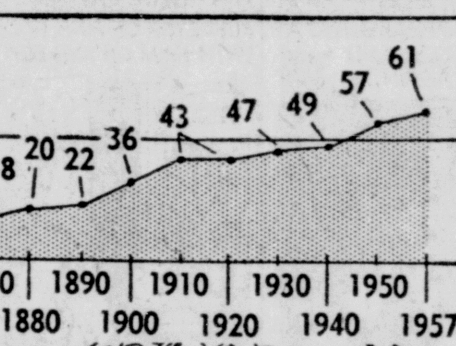

It's important to point out that everybody will be helped in a positive manner — the employers, the unionists and the local merchants, too. From sophistication on the petty business racketeering, the Consumer Counseling Service will swing into education on such CHURCHES IN AMERICA — Over 104 million Americans — an estimated 61 per cent of the population — were listed as members of churches and synagogues in 1957.

So reports the National Council of Churches, an interfaith organization embracing 33 constituent communions, in its latest Yearbook of American Churches.

This percentage is the second highest on record (62 per cent in 1956) and nearly double that at the turn of the century. Chart above shows some of the figures compiled by the council's Bureau of Research and Survey, covering 255 church bodies in this country.

One difficulty in assembling membership figures is the fact that churches use different methods of counting, some including all baptized infants and others only those who have sought and attained membership.

Besides membership rise, there were increases in Sunday School enrollment, contributions and new church construction, the latter at an all-time high of 868 million dollars.

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

The fourth volume of "Best Plays of the Modern American Theatre" has been added at the Salem Public Library. John Gassner's latest compilation of Broadway productions contains the scripts of such hits as "The Fourposter," "Tea and Sympathy," and "The Seven Year Itch."

All the drama and pagentry of the Spanish national sport is described in a new novel by Charles Grayson. "Arena" tells of an American sports writer who follows a famous matador through the bullrings of Spain and Mexico trying to uncover the hate that drives the matador to kill bull after bull.

OTHER FICTION

"Profane Junction" by L. T. White. A dashing historical novel involving the hazards of railroad building in California in 1871. Jubal O'Neal was beset by nature, by corrupt senators, and by beautiful women, before his railroad was finished.

"Palace Guard" by Donald Brader. After the famous and prodigious novelist, Payson Hughes, had committed suicide, one of his entourage sets out to write his biography. This is an ironic picture of the group that surrounded the famous man.

"Starrbelow" by China Thompson. By a humiliating accident, Sapphire Devigne was labeled an adventuress when she first appeared in English society. Her "trial" by society provides the plot for this eighteenth century tale.

"Only Akiko" by Duncan Thorpe. Sg. Hank Mueller picked up Akiko in Tokyo and used her as a front for his blackmarketing. When he was found out, he deserted and she hid him from the M.P.'s. They fell in love even though they knew it could not last.

"King's Agent" by J. K. Clark. The flight of King James II from England and the events that followed as seen by Ralph Bernard who served as James' personal agent through these troubled times.

NON-FICTION

"Life at My Fingertips" by Robert J. Smithdas. The author lost both sight and hearing as a child of five but has gone through school, college and graduate school.

"All the Time You Need" by R. R. Updegraff. A time study consultant for major corporations claims that time, although often wasted, is our most precious commodity, and gives suggestions for using time to the best advantage.

"Roy Bean" by C. L. Sonnichsen. A biography of the colorful, daring, and often outrageous man who was called "the law west of the Pecos."

"Trujillo" by G. E. Ornes. The former publisher of the Dominican Republic's largest newspaper writes about his country's dictator and the effect of his domination upon the country.

"Fascinating World of Butterflies" by Charles Ferdinand. Descriptive text and more than 100 photographs, many in color, showing the most beautiful butterflies in the world.

"Tools of Science" by Irving Adler. A survey of the basic principles found in each of the major groups of scientific tools from the yardstick to the cyclotron, with the history of its invention and application.

"British Columbia Rides a Star" by Vera Kelsey. An enthusiastic presentation of British Columbia — its history, legends, natural beauties, industries, sports etc.

"Chateaux of the Loire" by Vivian Rowe. Descriptions of the great houses along the Loire river. Each chateau is rich in history, architectural detail, and in personal memories.

"Edible Wild Plants of Eastern North America" by M. L. Fernald and A. C. Kinsey. A revised edition telling which plants, ferns and mushrooms are safe to eat. Must reading for those who get lost frequently.

"Making the Most of Every Move" by Garner Dodson. How to prepare for moving, how to pack, and how to re-establish roots in a new community, as suggested by a woman who has moved nine times in ten years.

RADAR ENFORCEMENT

CLEVELAND (AP)—High-speed accidents on the Ohio turnpike soon will bring radar enforcement of the speed limits. C. W. Hartford, executive director of the toll road, says. Conferences with the state highway patrol on how radar can best be used on the turnpike already have been held, and some problems still must be met. To try to flag down a turnpike speeder doing 70 or 80 miles an hour is hazardous for a patrolman. And to try to pursue him in a cruiser from a standing stop requires dangerously fast driving over a considerable distance.

DEAN'S JEWELERS

Thinking It Over

(Written for NEA Service)

Allergies are credited with being the causes of a great many ailments. Some of these ailments have very serious physiological effects. Others disturb the nervous system, either directly or indirectly. Although some of man's allergies are for food or for the substances of which clothing is made, there appear to be scores of other allergies. Some of these have not yet been determined specifically.

Occasionally we hear of a husband or a wife who is allergic to his mate. Every once in a while we observe a person who is so grumpy that we wonder if he may not be allergic to himself. There is probably no serum nor any diet which will cure the disposition or the inner hatreds which eat the soul.

The love of God is the only antidote for inner disturbance. And this cure cannot be administered unless the patient desires the cure.

Lest we have some hidden allergies to ourselves, let us turn to God for a preventive dose of His love.

TO CONTINUE PRACTICE
WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — E. Kahn's Sons Co. of Cincinnati has been issuing a share of its stock to farmers for each 100 hogs sold at its stockyards here and the firm says it plans to continue the practice despite U. S. Agriculture Department objections. President M. J. Schloss says the department thinks this is an unfair practice under the federal stockyards act. But he said the firm believes the stock will stimulate production of better hogs.
